“ I only knew Pat as a Bingo player for many years, I asked if she said she would be my co-chair person and volunteered to help run the bingo at the Senior Center. Through many conversations (we were both from downstate) we had a lot in common.

Pat was one of the most dedicated and hardest workers I come across in a long time. There is not a Wednesday that goes by that it crosses my mind how she was always early for bingo to make sure everything was just perfect for the bingo players. It was unbelievable how she was with remembering how many bingo papers the players bought. I still hear players saying PAT knew just what I wanted. (Unfortunately I do not have that gift). Many of you may know, for those who do not, Pat was amazing at figures, what an asset that was when it came to bingo. She would have the answers before I would get done with the calculator. Pat's family was everything to her and she was a loyal friend if you were lucky enough to be her friend. One thing that I really liked about Pat she was not a phoney person. She told it like it was. YOU ARE MISSED MY MANY.

“ Ma, I am so happy I got to see you, hug you and tell you I loved you last weekend, but I am sorry I didn't do it more often. I'll always hold the memories of you close to my heart and I am honored to have been able to make them with you. I know you were afraid to "leave" your girls, but because they had such a strong, independent role model like you, I am pretty sure they can handle whatever comes their way, and enough extended family to back them up if need be, lol. You have always been a fighter and you fought like a true champion, it is now your turn to rest and find the peace you so very much deserve. Until we meet again, love you and will be missing you....

“ I can remember Pat as force to be relentless. She was caring. When our daughters Angel an Bridget were stranded in Texas, her an Jimmy called an said they were sending money for our girls to get back to Michigan an we were broke Pat told us not to worry as we could pay them when we got paid! She was a loving person an she will be sadly missed! She is on her journey to meet her husband in heaven. God bless the girls!! Love Peggy Demars
