“ When I think of my sister, Diana, I remember how kind and thoughtful she was, as well as creative. From beautiful handmade baskets, and bonsai planters, to Japanese brush painting, many special things were created. When our children were young we spent days together every week at our homes sharing food and playtime. In our own early childhood years as little girls we slept in the same bed. Those were special comforting times, as now are the memories. Until we meet in that better place...Love, your Sissy Sandy
