“ Sending prayers and hugs to his family, he was a good guy. When he worked at the bus garage and Jolene was in Kindergarten she had fallen asleep so ended up riding the bus to the bus Garage, John was working that day and said he debated on sweeping that bus out but decided to and when he got to the back of the bus there was Jolene fast asleep. John called us and said he would bring her home. Jolene’s worst nightmare became a reality but John comforted her that day.
RIP John may your family find comfort in knowing you are at peace.
