“Nana was the heart of our family, a woman whose love and warmth touched everyone who knew her. Known simply as “Nana” to all who loved her, she filled our lives with kindness, laughter, and unconditional care.

She had a gift for nurturing—whether it was in her garden, where she grew beauty from the earth, or in her kitchen, where the smell of her cooking and baking always meant comfort and love. Her homemade meals weren’t just food; they were memories, shared moments, and reminders that we were always taken care of.

Nana especially loved the holidays, with Christmas being her favorite time of year. The house was always filled with music, laughter, and her joyful spirit as she danced around singing Christmas songs. Her love for the season wasn’t about the gifts, but about making sure everyone felt cherished, included, and never went without.

She adored her dogs, who were always by her side, and her greatest pride and joy were her grandchildren. They were her world, and she never let them forget how deeply loved they were.

Nana leaves behind a legacy of love, generosity, and tradition that will live on in every holiday song, every home-cooked meal, and every act of kindness we share in her honor. Though she is no longer with us, her spirit will forever be present in the lives she touched.
