“ My heart aches to know I will never again get to see you and share wonderful conversations here on earth again. You always was the biggest family fan and all you ever wanted was for the whole family to come together more often and have less space between all of us. I love you Mark and can't help but ask why you of all people?. You were the most loving person i know and always could bring a smile to my face. I will cherish every childhood and adult memory I have of you and will always keep your name alive. You will be missed deeply...

“ 💔😞

Marks life was a gift from God-to be always remembered and celebrated. I don't know any other person that was more gentle, meek, kind, caring and compassionate than Mark! He really was a good man who cared about others and loved his family very deeply!!!

By loving Jesus, we Know we will see him again, yet sorrow accompanies the day to day loss.

Rest in Jesus arms Mark! We will all be reunited one day! ❤️

“ My brother Mark was a very caring loving man who loved his family so so much. I was blessed to spend some more quality time with him recently. We had long talks and great hugs. I will never forget him and his compassion. He was a light in this world. I love you big brother! Can't wait to see you and mom and Jesus some day!

Did Mark go to Interlochen elementary? He just popped into my head and I decided to google him because he was kind to me and gave me a book once. "A Wrinkle in Time". I never stayed close with him because i switched schools. But he was always a really nice person.
